MISS GIM GEE A CRUEL FLIRT

Engaged in Smashing Oriental Only Few Faithful Friends At-Hearts in Plum Alley.

WAIL FROM MANY VICTIMS BURIED IN MT. OLIVET

ON WITH A NEW LOVE BEFORE SIMPLE SERVICES PERFORMED RID OF THE OLD.

A scandal has been uncarthed in the lown. A cruel coquette, Anna Gim Gee, one of the leading lights in the smart Peter A. Simpkin of the Congregation-

Dave Hing to the Rescue.

puarters for her, and employed a phy-lcian and nurse to take care of her intil she recovered. Each day, it is laimed, he visited the place and sent flowers, and in the course of events her flowers, and in the course of events fell violentity in love.

The affection was not mutual, but the wily damsel refrained from telling Hing her true mind until she recovered, when she informed him that she loved another, one E. Goo.

Broken in spirit and deeply "touched" about the pocketbook, Hing retired in favor of Goo, who had already been promised Miss Gee's hand. Goo furnished some apartments in the latest Orlental style and it was all over except seeing the minister, when the cept seeing the minister, when the fickle Anna Gee transferred her affec-tions to Tom Sing, a prominent Celes-tial merchant. Goo made an eloquent lal merchant. Goo made an eloquent plea for recognition but without avail, and he, too, was relegated to the rear.

Sing Given the Mitten.

Tom Sing, the latest aspirant for matrimonial honors, was not to be outdone by his predecessors and he, too, furnished a set of apartments for his bride-to-be. Things went along smoothly until yesterday, when Sing, upon going home after his day's business, found his fiance missing. Not only was Miss Gee gone but also, it is said, a vanioad of furniture with which Sing had furnished his suite of rooms.

Investigation disclosed the fact that the cold-hearted maid from the Orient had eloped with a Chinese laundryman and had appropriated all of Tom Sing's furniture. Sing, after thinking the matter over, called upon the police for assistance.

and this Sing promised to do.

BY REV. P. A. SIMPKIN.

A clergyman spoke the last lines in Murphy, 333 F St. exclusive circles of Salt Lake's China- the tragedy of Aurora Hodge. In a voice vibrant with earnestness, Re one of the leading lights in the smart set in Plum alley, is the central figure in the sensation, and four Celestial Beau Brummels play lesser roles. The affair has created no end of gossip emong the almond-eyed denizens of Plum alley, who are eagerly watching to see who will be the next victim. The story of the scandal, as related last evening by one of the jilted lovers, is something like this:

Anna Gim Gee, an olive-skinned beauty, came to Salt Lake about six months ago from Evanston, Wyo. In addition to being a woman of exceptional oriental beauty, Miss Gee is well educated and sneaks the Fredix language for ental beauty, Miss Gee is well educated and speaks the English language fluently.

No Relatives Were Present. About one month after her arrival here the fair Anna contracted diphtheria. She was compelled to give up her position, and being without friends

No Relatives Were Present.

The services began at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. After the few remarks of Mr. Simplin, followed by a prayer, the remains were taken to Mt.
